Who gives food?

From parents?

Who gives woods for shelter?

Whether it's from carpenter?

Who gives fruits?

Does it from the fruit vendor?

Who gives flower's?

Maybe from the bouquet shop owner?

Who shows mercy in the name of shadows

Under his branches in the mid noon times?

Who absorbs the waste air?

Who gives oxygen for life?

Does god creates oxygen for life?

No, I gives oxygen

I provides oxygen for life, and

I inhale all your junks

Many refused to think about me

Many refused to watered me

Many refused to plant me

And many refused to praise me

Well, I don't need your appreciations

I need lenity! I need some kindness!

Well yes! And I'm a tree

Who makes everyone to live

Who provides food for everyone to eat

Who covers everyone from the heat!

Well, time goes, people departs

After a short span of time

Whereas Tree giggles himself that

Tons of mastery minds

With zeros of emotions
