CLEAN INDIA GREEN INDIA

“In a gentle way, you can shake the world”

~ Mahatma Gandhi.

INTRODUCTION:

India is one of the most populated countries in this world. Citizens of India should become more mindful of their actions. We must keep our society green and clean. Recently, there have been a lot of missions that have been undertaken by our government. The Clean India mission is one of them. In Hindi, it translates to Swachh Bharat Abhiyan.

What is the Swachh Bharat Abhiyan?

The Swachh Bharat Abhiyan was launched by India's Prime Minister Sri Narendra Modi on 2nd October 2014 (Gandhi Jayanti). This scheme was launched in Delhi on this particular day as a token to honour Mahatma Gandhi's vision of Clean India. This project is administered by the Indian Government. Swachh Bharat Abhiyan has set a lot of goals and achieving these goals will lead towards a greener and cleaner India. The Ministry of Urban and Rural Development is responsible for the drive. Not only are the workers responsible for the cleanliness, but we as citizens must also equally contribute towards the plan. Overall, it is a great initiative that makes us aware of the impact of cleanliness.

Objective of Swachh Bharat Mission

- The project initially covered 4041 cities and was expected to have a budget of over 1.96 lakh crore. The agenda behind this mission is:
- One of the most important aims of it includes building toilets for every household.

- To promote cleanliness, it has offered us with proper drainage systems, bathing facilities, hand pumps, etc.
- It wants to educate citizens about the proper management of household waste. It plans to do so through various health and awareness programs.

Our role in keeping India Clean

- We can separate the dry and the wet wastes before discarding them from our homes.
- Segregation of waste (biodegradable, recyclable, and other waste) is very important.
- Try to carry a recycled paper bag.
- Reuse plastic items. Make something creative out of it.
- Prepare a compost pit at home.

Conclusion

A cleaner environment is essential to all of us. It is the first step towards prosperity. A cleaner nation attracts more tourists, and this is a direct input to its economy. Moreover, if India is clean, we will be the first ones to be benefited from it. Devoid of diseases, our health will be promoted. Let us all do our part to take care of ourselves, our families, our friends, and our nation.
