

Experiance Regarding EBSB

During these testing times of pandemic, it's really important to stay connected and show solidarity to each other. In this scenario, having a real camp for the students is out of radar. But, thanks to Internet and latest Internet Technologies that we are able to see, talk and interact with other in spite of geographical distances. I am indeed fortunate to have got this opportunity to participate in one such event by NCC which was "EK Bharath Shresth Bharath". This virtual meeting got together NCC cadets of different states to interact virtually and know more about the greatness of our country.

The event started off on the first day vibrantly by knowing about the History, Geography, Economy and Good Practices by the participating states. The first day took off smoothly with all the cadets and officers getting accustomed to the webinar and first time they could interact with each other. This was something of an ice-breaker activity for all.

In the next days of the webinar, we went little bit deeper into our states and experienced the rich cultural heritage, came to know about the festivals they celebrate and the customs and traditions associated with them. We also relished their cuisines virtually by keenly seeing their presentations and how the food habits are different in different regions. The next thing which was very interesting and unique was the understanding of the origin, script and dialects of these states. We got the opportunity to learn few greeting and common sentences in the local languages and dialects of the states. We could quickly learn some common sentences which I think will be able to help us out if we visit these states later in our lives. Through the different and colorful presentations in this webinar, we also enjoyed the different dance and music forms of these states and learnt that people of India really enjoy good soulful music and dance performances. We also got inspired by great leaders of these states, who have inspired many people through their actions and deeds. There are innumerable great people, who were born in our country and whose actions have changed history not only in India but across the world. " In these six days we saw how fortunate and blessed we are to be born in this motherland, which has been the land of great warriors, leaders and saints and mahatmas, knowledgeable people and the country of divine presence. Through this webinar, we also all got an excellent opportunity to know about our country, interact with each other, develop bonding even though we had joined virtually and develop a sense of oneness. In these testing times, this webinar also showed that nothing can stop the human spirit to keep going against the odds and also how strong it has made us.

For me personally, I learnt a lot from this webinar and also with the interaction of all the senior officers that no matter what, duty is always the first. It also taught me that how we can inspire the younger generation to be more compassionate, secular, empathetic and patriotic through such webinars and build a stronger India.
