

Water

Don't ruin me, remember
me, you will remain thirsty , you will not be able to live without me.
How long will you see the spectacle of my ruin,
when the crisis will come on you, then you will think about me.

The people living in the world need me, because of my ruin, my life also decreases.
Let it not happen that one day, I leave this world,
my game ends , I do not come back again.

You will repent - you will cry, nothing will be done,
think - understand, decide, now it is in your hands.

In this world without me, it is difficult for everyone to live, think about the future , not yourself, the future is also involved in this.
By accepting me, all the living beings quench their thirst,
if I have fallen short, they become dry everywhere.

Be careful, accept it, this is my story.
Take the decision together today, don't ruin me,
so remember you.
