Cleaning of water Bodies :-

Water is one of the core constituents that support life. It is essential pollution is now a major environmental threat to the existence of humans.

→ Water gets deteriorated via natural activities and anthropogenic. Water pollution affects humans and other living things in all aspects.

→ Planting more plants and trees prevents contamination of pesticides and insecticides from running off the nearby water sources. Certain fishes keep the water fresh by consuming toxic substances and plants. Thus by taking small measures, the water stays healthy and fresh, and people can use it for any purpose.
