

B-certificate Camp.

I am Amith PJ, Naval NCC cadet of 9 K Naval Unit NCC. Now I am a second year cadet of Malabar Christian College and I had attended a 3 day cadre. It was a nice experience for me. I got a chance to meet all my fellow cadets from different colleges. And also share my valuable times with superior defence officers and spending time with them and their experience in armed forces inspired me a lot. And I got a chance to hold a weapon (SLR) for the first time. Really I feel proud when holding the gun in white uniform.

Those 3 days were exclusively looks like a training camp. We the cadets learned a lot about armed forces especially about the Navy. We all got a clear cut information about the navigation, communication, seamanship, search and rescue, gunnery departments of Indian Navy.

And the B-certificate exam was a great experience for me. Several practical questions and works from different departments were took place on the first day. It was a nice experience when we were grouped to several teams and each group was assigned each task. The questions from firing, semaphore, navigation, seamanship and so on departments was a good one to execute. And the next was the written exam. It was a good exam with questions from various topics which is related to our country, ncc, social service, personality development and so on. I did it both well and am proud of being a B-certificate holder.

Several other Social service activities also took place as part of Ncc. We have conducted eye camp, cleaning programs, and other welfare programs also. While wearing the white uniform and attending each and Parades and programmes, I am really proud of it.

Even in these lockdown days also, we are taking online classes and training. I hope this is the first step to join in Indian defence forces.
