Brics Summit

The Brics Summit, which concluded on June 15, 2009, revealed much about the grouping of five emerging nations. That this bloc of five disparate countries has not only made it do its 14th summit but has been able to demonstrate some concrete, albeit modest, outcomes of cooperation, such as the emergence of the New Development Bank, suggests there remains a strong convergence of interests amid undeniable differences. Indeed, ever since the first summit in Yekaterinburg in 2009, Brics has had more than its fair share of naysayers, particularly in the west, and has been derided as a 'top-down' group.
