

ARTICLE 370

Parliament needs the Jammu and Kashmir government approval for applying laws in the state - except in cases of defence, foreign affairs, finance, and communications.

The law of citizenship, ownership of property and fundamental right of the resident of Jammu and Kashmir is different from the residents living in rest of India. Under Article 370, citizen from other states, cannot buy property in Jammu and Kashmir. Under Article 370, the centre has no power to declare financial emergency in the state.
